Everything In Readiness for "WLS Program"

Many Towns Contribute Talent for Show Thurs., Friday and Saturday

Players, singers and dancers from 24 towns help to make up the big cast for the Prairie Farmer WLS Home Talent show to be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week in the Antioch High school auditorium under the auspices of the local American Legion post.

Racine, Woodstock, Lake Geneva, Barrington, Waukegan, Wilmet, Burlington, Wheatland, Salem, Half Day, Camp Lake, McHenry, North Chicago, Libertyville, Arlington Heights, Crystal Lake, Grayslake, Russell, Round Lake, Lake Villa and Loom Lake are some of the communities that have contributed talent for the three-night program.

Put out Handbills
Miss Gladys Jones of the Prairie Farmer WLS community service, is directing the program for the Legion. Proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the Junior Legion Drum and Bugle corps. Performances will open at 8 o'clock each evening.

Local committees were busy Tuesday spreading handbills to all neighboring communities. Tickets will be available at the door each evening, and they may also be purchased in advance at a slight reduction from any member of the cast or from the Antioch Legion post members.

The players have been busy with rehearsals under Miss Jones' guidance. The "Hayloft" folks who will come to life for this occasion are listed in the program printed on another page of this issue.

Funeral Services are Held for Father of Millburn Resident

Millburn and Antioch friends of James Simpson, Jr., learned with regret of the death of James Simpson, Sr., 65, of Chicago on Saturday. Funeral services were held Monday in St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, Chicago.

Besides his son, James, who is a former representative to congress from this district and a resident of Millburn, he leaves his widow, Jessie McLaren Simpson, sons John McLaren and William, a brother, William B. Simpson, and two sisters.

Once a Scottish immigrant boy, Mr. Simpson rose from a minor clerking position in the Marshall Field and Co. store to president of the board of that company, a place he resigned in 1932. When he died, he was chairman of the executive committee of Fields.

Besides his posts at Fields and Commonwealth Edison, Mr. Simpson was a director of the New York Central railroad. He had served for a long time as a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, director of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, Chairman of the Chicago plan commission and of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, a director of the Chicago Zoological society, the Field museum and the Shedd aquarium.

Antioch Legion Sends Delegates to Bloomington

Commander Clarence J. White and Adjutant John L. Horan of the Antioch Legion post and Mrs. Horan, secretary of the Legion Auxiliary unit, attended the Saturday-Sunday Legion conference of department commanders and adjutants at Bloomington. The Antioch delegation reported 92 paid up 1940 members for the Legion and 55 paid-up members for the auxiliary. National Commander Roy Kelly of Detroit was a speaker at the conference.

Find Russell Guilty of Hamilton Slaying

Jack Russell, 39, Oklahoma desperado, was convicted by a federal court jury in Chicago last week on a charge of kidnapping and killing William Scott Hamilton, 23, of Arkansas City, Kans. The death penalty was recommended. Hamilton's body was found near Ringwood on June 14, and the automobile stolen from him by Russell was "discovered" abandoned in Kenosha.

Seven men and five women served on the Russell trial jury.

Sibley Transferred To Wright Field, Ohio

Nason E. Sibley, construction superintendent working under the civil service branch of the war department, who has been employed at Fort Sheridan since March, 1938, has been transferred to Wright field near Dayton, Ohio, where a $9,000,000 building program is in progress. With the completion of the project which is estimated to require three years, Wright field will be the largest military aviation field in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Sibley left Wednesday for Dayton, stopping first at Kankakee, Ill., to visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bonser, former residents of Antioch, before proceeding to the Ohio city. Mrs. Sibley will return to Antioch the first of next week.

Antioch Firemen Attend Co. Meet

Local Department Plans to Qualify for the 2 Percent Tax

John Horan and Elmer Hunter, delegates, and L. R. Van Patten, alternate, represented the Antioch Fire department at a meeting of the Lake County Firemen's association held Monday evening in the Seahorse clubrooms in Waukegan. The Waukegan and Lake Forest fire departments acted as hosts to the 200 men present as representatives of 22 fire companies on this occasion.

L. H. Glens of the Illinois Municipal league was the principal speaker, discussing standards of eligibility fire prevention districts have to meet in order to qualify for the requirements of the Illinois inspection bureau and to be eligible for the two percent foreign tax made possible by recent state legislation.

His talk was of particular interest to the Antioch representatives, since the local department is meeting the state requirements for qualifying for the two percent tax revenue from portions of the district outside the village limits. This move will permit the outlying regions to qualify for lower insurance rates. The Gurnee and Fox Lake districts have already qualified.

The Lake County Firemen's association is planning to revise its by-laws. The suggestion that the association be incorporated was advanced by the Antioch delegates Monday evening.

To Combat Incendiarism
Frank Doherty, deputy state fire marshal, was a guest of honor at the meeting and outlined the activities of his office in attempting to combat a wave of incendiary fires in Chicago, Evanston, Fox River Grove and Waukegan.

The services of nearly 700 firemen in this region are being enlisted to cooperate with the state forces in checking this menace, which may threaten lives as well as property, it was announced.

Expect Large Crowd for Donkey Basketball

In conjunction with the Donkey Indoor basketball game booked for Dec. 18, in the Antioch High School gymnasium, the Richmond Zephyrs, one of the fastest teams in the northern part of Illinois, will play the Antioch Lions' club team.

Committees from the Lions' club and the Antioch fire department are making arrangements for seating accommodations for 60 persons.

Home games have been booked by the Antioch Lions' club basketball team, for Dec. 6 at the high school, with Doc King's colored stars of North Chicago and the Antioch Merchants team, on a double program.

Sets Trap for Prowler; But It Doesn't Work

A steel trap which Mrs. John Schreiber placed at the entrance to one of her cottages at Long Lake failed to stop an invader who took a mattress and several blankets. Several cottages in the Long Lake area have been entered during the past few weeks by a prowler who apparently liked to sleep in a different cottage each night.

A possible solution to the mystery was disclosed when sheriff's Deputy Frank Valenta took into custody Otto Anderson, 53, of Ingleside, suspected of loitering in several of the cottages. He was sentenced to six months at the state farm at Joliet on a vagrancy charge.

Robert La Parr, Chicago, was a Thanksgiving Day guest at the Cornelius Malget home.

Lions Plan to Sponsor Xmas. Carols Again

Make Appropriations for Baskets for Needy at Meeting

The Antioch Lions club will again sponsor the broadcasting of Christmas carols over a loudspeaker system, it was voted at a meeting held Monday evening at the Nimrod Casa on Fox River. A dinner preceded the business period.

An appropriation for Christmas baskets for the needy was made by the club.

Prizes of $10 and $5 for the best home Christmas decorations will be donated by the organization this year.

The Lions also voted to arrange for an ice-skating rink for the children of the community. The large parking lot south of the post office will be flooded for this purpose, as was done last year.

Set Festival Dates
August 16, 17 and 18 were decided upon as the dates for the Lions' annual summer festival in 1940.

The date is being announced early to avoid all possible conflict with other major summer and fall happenings during the coming year.

Investigate Cause of Fire at Crystal Hall

Damages of $20,000 Are Caused by Fire and Explosion

Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry county, Chief Deputy Harold Reese, State Fire Warden Frank E. Doherty, Fire Chief William Dvorak of Fox River Grove, State's Attorney William M. Carroll and various county officials are conducting further investigations into the cause of the explosion and fire that caused damages of $20,000 at the Crystal Ballroom at Fox River Grove early Saturday morning.

According to reports Dvorak and Rex Wright, who was night watchman at the Crystal ballroom, were abducted at gunpoint early Saturday morning by two men while their four companions sat in the building with kerosene and set off two incendiary bombs.

Second in Week
An earlier fire is said to have occurred in the building on the previous Sunday afternoon. An investigation at that time was said to have revealed loose papers and traces of spilled gasoline in the attic. A watchman had been stationed at the building as a result of the earlier occurrence.

Possibilities of Chicago racketeering complications are also being investigated. The ballroom has been under the management of Mrs. Louis Cernocky, widow of the former owner, and her two sons, Edward and Louis, Jr.

Older Young People to Meet at Half Day Dec. 4

The Society for Older Young People of Lake county will hold its next meeting at the church in Half Day, Ill., on Monday, Dec. 4, at 8 o'clock. The program will be as follows:

Recreation led by Melva Hubbard, Libertyville.

Devotions led by Opal Jarrett, Libertyville.

Discussion led by Lois Johnson, Musical number.

Refreshments.

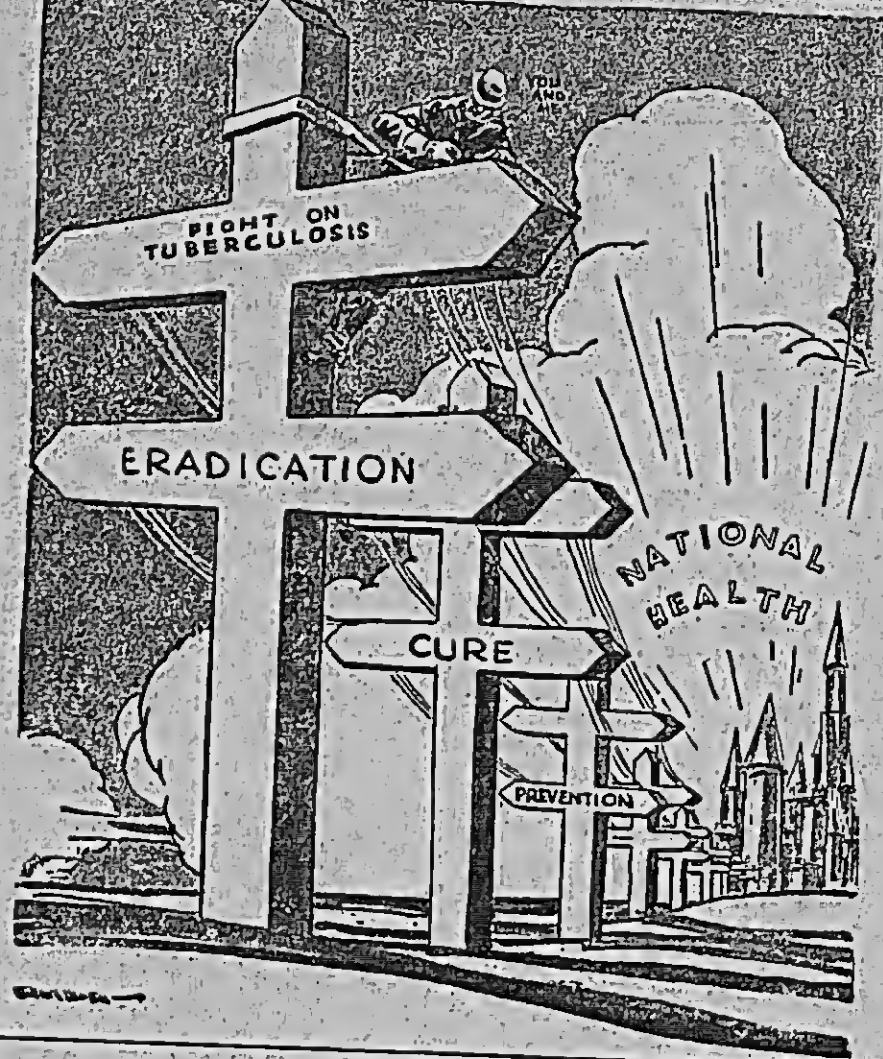

All young people in Lake county between the ages of 20 and 35 are privileged to attend.

Lake County 40 & 8 Meets at Fox Lake

John A. McCormack, past national vice-commander of the American Legion, was the speaker at a meeting held by Lake County Voiture, 40 & 8, in the Fox Lake Legion home Friday evening. McCormack, who is chief pharmacist at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, was recently transferred here from Hawaii.

Receives 4-H Medal
A gold medal will be awarded to Marcia Holtje of Prairie View as county winner in the national 4-H canning achievement, Dec. 12 at the Lake County 4-H Achievement Day.

PUTTING THE LINE THROUGH

Recreation Workers to Repair Toys for Kiddies

A call is being sent out for residents of Antioch and surrounding territory to send in broken and discarded toys to the Antioch Recreation project headquarters at the Antioch Grade school.

These toys will be repaired and painted by the handicraft groups and distributed at Christmas time to children of needy families.

Won't you look now, project leaders, urge, and send in your contributions to the Grade school? Remember that some children will be made happier at Christmas time because you remembered them.

Medinah Potentate Is Honor Guest of Lake County Shrine

Honor guest at the dinner meeting of the Lake County Shrine club here in Masonic hall Monday night was Potentate Joseph G. Rowley of Medinah Temple, Chicago. Potentate Rowley and his staff of officers attended at the invitation of Fred B. Swanson, president of the local Shrine club. Many Shriners from Chicago and north shore towns were among the 125 members who attended. A chicken dinner with all the trimmings started the evening at 6:30 o'clock with members of the local Eastern Star lodge serving.

Potentate Rowley complimented the local club for the splendid work they had done in Lake county, and drew attention to the work of Medinah Temple Shrine in maintaining the Chicago home for crippled children, which receives crippled children in need of assistance regardless of race or creed. He also extended a county-wide invitation for all to attend the Shrine circus to be held in the International amphitheatre starting Dec. 30 and continuing for two weeks. At this event there will be the greatest aggregation of talent ever assembled for a circus performance, comprising many of the best acts in America.

It's Twins Again at Hospital in Waukegan

The fourth set of twins to arrive at St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, during the last five weeks was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. William T. O'Dell, North Chicago. They were girls. Twin daughters were born Nov. 24 to the Eugene Boettles, route 1, Waukegan; a son and a daughter Nov. 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perez, a son and daughter, Oct. 20, to Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Clay.

W. C. Petty is on "Iron Lung" Purchase Committee

W. C. Petty of Antioch will be a member of the committee selected to purchase an "iron lung" for Lake county. More than $2,000 has been contributed by various agencies and individuals in the county for this purpose. The others on the committee are James F. Siles, Jr., chairman; Dr. L. E. Dovic, Dr. L. J. Osgood and Dr. Maurice Penny.

County-wide Seal Sale to Begin Dec. 1

Seals Will Go to 15,967 Homes; Benefit T. B. Association

Mail carriers of the Antioch territory will join with others in Lake county on Dec. 1 in delivering Christmas Seals to a total of 15,967 homes. Annually, during the holiday season, Antioch News readers are asked to share their blessings with those who are less fortunate and to purchase the Christmas seals that finance the year-round program of the Lake County Tuberculosis association.

Fifty years ago when the organized fight against tuberculosis started, about 300 persons out of every 100,000 persons then living were dying every year from this disease. Today only 55 persons are dying of tuberculosis out of every 100,000 persons. In spite of enormous increases of population and drastic changes in the economic, social and industrial conditions of the country the tuberculosis death rate has steadily declined.

Fifty years ago anyone with tuberculosis was considered "doomed to death." Today science has made great advances of discovering it earlier when there is a greater chance of recovery.

Need Greater Vigilance
However, in spite of steady improvement of diagnostic methods, statistics for the United States show that only 13% of Sanatorium admissions are found in the first stages of tuberculosis. This means that far too many unrecognized cases in every community are threatening their families and neighbors with infection.

The Lake County Tuberculosis Association, with funds from Christmas Seals, is striving to find the early cases of tuberculosis in our county. This is done through its clinics, tuberculin testing, X-rays, some visiting, and also through its educational campaign. All contacts are urged to seek medical advice early.

During the past year (Sept. 1, 1938-Sept. 1, 1939), the Lake county association has marked up to its credit the following accomplishments:

Examine 1,730
Eighty-three chest clinics were held, with 1,730 in attendance. Of these cases, 604 were examinations of new patients, and 1,126 were examinations of previous patients. During the clinics, 457 tuberculin tests were given and 570 X-ray examinations conducted.

During this period, 1,317 visits were made, 1,051 being visits into the homes of patients and 266 business calls in the interest of the association's work.

In the schools, 624 tuberculin tests were given. Eighty-four cases showed positive reactions, indicating that at some time there had been exposure to the germ of tuberculosis. All positive reactors were X-rayed, and no active cases of tuberculosis were found.

Health Education
An extensive, and intensive, health education program was carried on by the association, which distributed 18,000 folders on "The Early Diagnosis of Tuberculosis" to homes in Lake county.

The association placed 350 programs on "A Teaching Unit on Healthful Home Living" in the county schools, mailed 22 articles each week to newspapers of the county, sent representatives to 21 meetings relative to tuberculosis, and presented talks and motion pictures before 12 Parent-Teacher associations and clubs.

Ingleside Man Admits He Entered Cottages

Otto Anderson, 53, of Ingleside, who has admitted to Lake county sheriff's deputies that he was responsible for the prowler scare in the Long Lake community, has been removed to the state farm at Joliet for a six-month vagrancy term. Anderson said he entered various cottages for the purpose of sleeping in them. He also broke into the Perkins tavern at Long Lake beach twice to get liquor and cigarettes.

Dr. Stephenson to Visit Methodist Meeting Here

Dr. A. T. Stephenson, district superintendent of the Chicago Northern district, will be present at the first quarterly conference of the Antioch Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 3, at 3 o'clock. The meeting will be open to the general public as well as to the official members of the church.

Council Will Complete Yule Plans Tuesday

Municipal Tree, Treat for Kiddies to Be Among Features

Plans for Antioch's municipal observance of the Christmas holidays will be completed at a meeting of the city council next Tuesday evening, Mayor George B. Bartlett announced today. The celebration will probably be carried out along the same lines that have been followed during the past two or three years.

A large community Christmas tree has been ordered and will be set up and trimmed within the next week or two.

To Put Up Lights
Ornamental lights and other decorations will be put up in the main business section. Business establishments of Antioch take pride each year in the attractiveness of their Christmas decorations, and these are expected to be even finer this season than usual.

A "treat" for the children will be another highlight of the village observance, according to the annual custom.

Lions Defeat Chicago Team

The Antioch Lions basketball team opened its home season Nov. 20 by defeating the Invaders Athletic club of Chicago in a game held in the high school gymnasium. The score was 27 for Antioch and 21 for the Chicagoans.

The Lions are gradually getting into shape for the season, with the progress of Koppin at guard attracting much interest.

It was Koppin who was responsible for four of the 12 baskets made by Manager R. G. Holtz' men.

The box scores:

Orchids to Mr. Dies

If Congressman Dies were not a persistent and determined kind of a Texan, America would not today have the leaders of the German Bund and the Communist Party in America under indictment. We would not have these disseminators of alien isms on the run. We would not be on our way toward driving out of high government positions the Communists who have worked in under shelter of the New Deal.

It has been only a matter of a year, since the entire Federal Administration was blasting the Dies Committee. After his first exposure of Communist activities, Mr. Dies was bitterly attacked by President Roosevelt himself, by Mrs. Roosevelt, by Secretary Ickes and others. Attempts were made to "smear" him. When the time came for him to get more money for his investigation this year, Mr. Dies had to fight New Deal opposition on every side. It was commonly understood in Washington that the only reason he obtained a continuance of his work was that New Dealers in the House did not dare vote against continuance once a vote was reached.

Keeping everlastingly at its inquiry, building an incontrovertible network of evidence against the "united front" and its New Deal alliances, the Dies Committee is finally forcing even Attorney General Murphy, to move against alien influences. They couldn't lick the committee so they decided to "jine 'em."

When the Government Controls All

The dangers to every American involved in the New Deal program of greater and greater power for the Federal Government was plainly outlined recently before the Temporary National Economic Committee in Washington by a small Pennsylvania oil man.

Testifying at the committee's inquiry into the oil industry, Arnold W. Craft left the members with something more to think about than statistics and new ways to encircle business.

"You may through devious methods deny a people economic liberty," he said, "but eventually there will be found hidden away a spark of will and courage which when fanned will ignite, and the will to live again will consume the people; then that mighty force will pervade the land."

"Economic liberty is freedom of thought and action with respect for the rights of others—not intimidation, coercion, or gratuities so directed that the result is restraint of rights, liberty or trade. Restraint of such nature denotes an institution founded on a philosophy that the weak shall be shackled by the powers of the strong."

"It is my honest conviction that we must find a way to solve this great entanglement of undue control if we would hope to retain the American system as conceived by the founders of our country."

While America Talks

Nobody should minimize the importance of the European conflict to this country. Directly and indirectly its evil effects will be felt for many years to come. But in some respects America is acting like a family excitedly watching a neighbor's house burn, while, unnoticed, flames devour their own back porch. Instead of getting busy and wetting their place down to prevent spread of the fire, they merely talk of what should be done. The other day while America talked, the Federal debt passed the $41,000,000,000 mark.

Bankruptcy, not war, ruins nations. As a rule, a financially strong nation can survive war; a financially weak nation cannot.

For more than a decade this nation has steadily weakened itself financially. The government has constantly spent more money than it has received from taxpayers. "Deficit financing" or borrowing has been a continuing process. It has been like a flame creeping slowly through dry grass toward a powder keg. Talking will not put it out. Yet, we all know that if it is allowed to reach the powder keg of national insolvency, a devastating explosion will follow.

Then what will become of our national security, of which we talk so much? It will be blown to bits along with the savings and liberties of a hundred and thirty million Americans—Americans who spent their time talking.

WILMOT

Union Free High School

School will be closed on Thursday and Friday for the second Thanksgiving holiday.

Six weeks examinations are to be held this week with report cards issued next week.

SPREADING THE GOOD NEWS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 10:24-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that heareth say, Come—Revelation 22:17.

"Bewilderment." That is the word which the president of a great American university recently said accurately described the present condition of the minds of men. Little wonder that the men of the world are bewildered, for they are like mariners who sail an unknown sea after having thrown away map and compass. Without Christ and without God's Word men cannot be anything but bewildered.

That which gives us even greater concern is that many who are Christians, who really know the Guide and who have the Guidebook, are also declaring themselves to be utterly bewildered. What is the reason? Obviously that they have not read the Book and have not talked with their Lord.

Our lesson for the coming Lord's Day touches on one of the problems which causes many Christians to question God's love and care. They find that their efforts to testify for Him by word or life meet with a violent reaction from a bitter world, and they discover that such a life involves personal sacrifice and frequently results in even the members of their own families turning against them. Can this be God's way of dealing with His people? The answer is found in His Word. The Christian is to be

I. Fearless in a Hostile World (vv. 24-28, 32, 33).

Note carefully that he is not to be silent (vv. 32, 33). We deny our Lord when we fail to speak for Him when we ought to do so. Christianity is not something to be hidden in one's own bosom, a fire to warm one's own soul. It is good news which is to be proclaimed even from the house-tops.

But, someone will say, when I do speak there is opposition; they call me names, they threaten to kill me. Yes, and what of it? "The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his Lord" (v. 24). They called Jesus a devil. They even crucified Him. Should we then expect to be borne to glory on flowery beds of ease? God knows all about this, yes, even about the hidden and whispered plottings of evil men (v. 26). He will deal with them and judge them in due season.

We need not fear men. The most they can do is to kill the body. Let us consider the eternal God, who not only may take the life out of the body, but is also able to cast both soul and body into hell (v. 28). God is not as a theory, a bit of pious imagination. He is real, He is all-powerful. Why then should we be fearful if we serve Him in faithful devotion?

II. Fearless in Personal Life (vv. 29-31).

It is one thing to be bold in the midst of battle. It is quite another thing to be fearless in the quiet of one's own room, or of one's own heart. Satan is expert at that point. He comes to us with his humiliating accusations of our unworthiness, yes, of our worthlessness. Sadly enough our own knowledge of ourselves confirms his dismal judgment.

But wait! If we are Christians we are not our own. We are bought with a price, the precious blood of Christ. We belong to Him. He is our advocate with the Father. Let Him meet our accuser. What does He say? He tells us that He has numbered the very hairs of our head (v. 30), that even a dying sparrow concerns Him, and that we are worth more than many sparrows (v. 31). We are His and He is our Saviour, Friend and Brother. Let us look up and be without fear.

III. Fearless in the Family Circle (vv. 34-39).

Here, after all, is the acid test of discipleship. Christ did not come in order to stir up needless strife between members of the family, but He well knew that divisions would come as the result of true discipleship. Men who are ordinarily kind and cultured in their dealings with their friends and families but who do not know Christ, can become like veritable demons against any one in that circle who hears the call of Christ and follows Him.

No human tie, no matter how intimate or precious, is to be permitted to stand between the individual and his devotion to Christ. If it does, Christ is evidently no longer first. He is no longer Lord of all in the life, and if He is not Lord of all, He is not Lord at all.

While it seems almost paradoxical to say it, Scripture teaches and experience demonstrates that if you keep your life for yourself and your own interests, it will die in your very hands and you will lose it. If you give your life in glad abandonment to God, on the other hand, you will receive it back from Him transformed, enriched, and glorified by His grace and blessing.

Convict Starts an

Apiary in Prison

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Henry Hudson, inmate at the Folsom, Calif., state prison, found himself locked up in his cell three years ago, with nothing to read but a stuffy book on bee culture. Today Hudson has the first apiary ever introduced at the prison, the result of a chance swarm of bees that turned up on the grounds.

Find Lost Boy, 6, Unhurt and Happy

Wandered for Three Days in Dense Minnesota Woods.

LAPORTE, MINN.—Russell Jensen, a sturdy six-year-old youngster, calmly told of his experiences while lost for three days in the dense timber and thickets of Paul Bunyan forest. He said he had an exciting time watching planes searching for him and hadn't even been hungry.

Two National Guardsmen, members of a company that had been aiding in the search with 500 volunteers, two planes and bloodhounds found him, only a mile and a half from a summer cottage from which he disappeared.

He was plodding along, his face smeared with berries, on the abandoned "Old Blue" trail between Akely and Benedict, near Lake Kabe-kona. Surprisingly he was headed in the direction of his home. Guardsmen James Wall and Bud Potter found him, in good spirits, with his clothing intact.

The guardsmen took him to the cottage where his mother who had collapsed under the strain of his disappearance, was being treated by Dr. O. S. Ringle. The doctor examined the boy and said the only mark on his 45-pound body was a small scratch, probably received while he wandered through the thick undergrowth.

The boy's family had nearly abandoned hope he would be found alive. He wandered away from a group of children Monday morning while his father, Curtis Jensen of Albert Lea, Minn., was fishing. Soon he became lost in the forest, named after Paul Bunyan, a mythical character of great strength and genius in the tales of north woods lumbermen.

The youngster said he had eaten raspberries and blueberries during his three days of wandering and had obtained water from springs. "I slept on the ground when I felt like it," he told Ringle. "I had the most fun watching those airplanes flying around. One was orange. The other one was blue."

Find Fine Murals Under Wall Paper of Old Home

ROCKPORT, MASS.—Murals—possibly 150 years old—hidden under four layers of wall paper, were uncovered in an ancient Smith street house here.

Covering the four walls of the small parlor, the paintings were done in the manner of the so-called American primitives, with stiff but attractive figures and colors, which will be fresh looking when properly cleaned.

Two painted flags cross over an apple tree and a brace of doves, have 13 stars and bars each, dating the work back to early post-Revolutionary days. Most interesting panel represents a farm worker at a well, lifting an oaken bucket to his parched lips as a thirsty little blue dog looks on.

The property, a two and a half story wooden colonial dwelling, is owned by Mrs. Marlan J. Cooney, who was born there, unsuspecting the presence of the murals until she decided upon a new wall paper to brighten the walls.

Jail Guest Is Successful

In Prolonging His Visit

MONCTON, N. B.—Blair Bastrache knows the formula for getting an extension on your host's hospitality. Bastrache appeared at the police station here one evening and asked for a night's lodging. The request was granted and he went below to the cells. There he met Charles Crossman and began fighting with him. Crossman's nose was broken. Bastrache pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting and doing actual bodily harm. He received six months in jail.

Good Samaritan Role

Only Ends in Hospital

PORTERVILLE, CALIF.—The good samaritan business is in dispute with Cowboy Robert Gilbert at the present time. He encountered two stranded motorists in the mountains with their auto bogged in a stream. He attached his lariat to the car, gave his horse the heave-to sign, to which the animal responded with such hearty good will that the saddle elch broke and Gilbert landed on the rocks in midstream with a broken pelvis.

SOCIETY NOTES

Anniversaries are Being Celebrated by Several Couples

A number of couples in Antioch and vicinity are observing wedding anniversaries these days.

Their forty-seventh anniversary was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Drom quietly at their home Friday. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Morley's forty-sixth anniversary last Tuesday was also the birthday anniversary of their granddaughter, Phyllis Ann McMillen, and the two events were observed together. Phyllis Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McMillen.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Masters celebrated the 52nd anniversary of their marriage on Thanksgiving Day at their home which they share with their daughter, Mrs. Rice and husband. Their grandson, Harold Masters, came out from Chicago to spend the day with them at Lake Villa.

The fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cribb, which occurred on Nov. 21, was the inspiration for a 1 o'clock family dinner held at their home Sunday. Covers were placed for 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Cribb were married in Gurnee, by the pastor whose son attracted international attention recently when he was kidnapped and held for ransom in Arabia—the Rev. Goldner.

Mrs. Cribb before her marriage was Miss Amanda Tweed.

Since Mrs. Cribb has been in poor health the anniversary observance was a quiet affair, with only members of the immediate family present, but many greetings and remembrances were received by the couple from friends here and at a distance.

WILMOT TWINS ARE FETED ON THANKSGIVING BIRTHDAYS

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 30, is the signal for something else besides turkey in at least two Wilmot homes this year, for birthday celebrations are being held, too. And that goes double for one of the homes, where twins are the celebrants.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ehlert are to entertain on Thanksgiving for the twins, Duane and Dean's seventeenth birthday anniversary at a family gathering. Present will be Mrs. Flavia Ehlert and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bauman, Spring Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Pacey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Ehlert, Twin Lakes; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ehlert and daughter, Twin Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frank will entertain on Thanksgiving for their daughter, Beverly's fifth birthday anniversary. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. William Harn and sons Rodelle and Melvin; John Grabow; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Balza and son, Kenosha; Mr. and Mrs. Earle Harn and son; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and son. The Franks spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarnstorff at Richmond.

BUSINESS CLUB TO HOLD DINNER MONDAY

A pot luck dinner will be held by the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening at 6 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. B. Gaston.

SON OF LAKE VILLA RESIDENT WEDS WAUKEGAN GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wright are expected to return Sunday from a honeymoon in the south, and will make their home in Chicago.

Mr. Wright is the son of Fred Wright, Lake Villa, and the bride is the former Miss LaVerna Leby of Waukegan. Their marriage took place in Waukegan on Sunday, Nov. 19, with the Rev. Howard E. Ganster officiating. Mrs. Rolla H. Killian attended her sister as matron of honor and Bert Galiger of Lake Villa was best man.

The bridegroom is employed as an accountant with a Chicago firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Swanson attended a banquet given in honor of the Imperial Shrine Potentate of North America, Walter C. Cline of Texas, Friday evening in the Palmer House. The banquet was the climax of an all-day gathering. A theater party was enjoyed by the ladies during the evening. Antioch men who attended the Shrine ceremonial in Medinah temple Friday night included C. K. Anderson and Robert Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nelson and children and Mrs. George Bacon were dinner guests on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, at the home of Mrs. Effie Nelson and Mrs. Vera Rentner on Victoria street.

MILBURN AID PLANS DINNER AND ELECTION

"Little Stories for Bedtime"

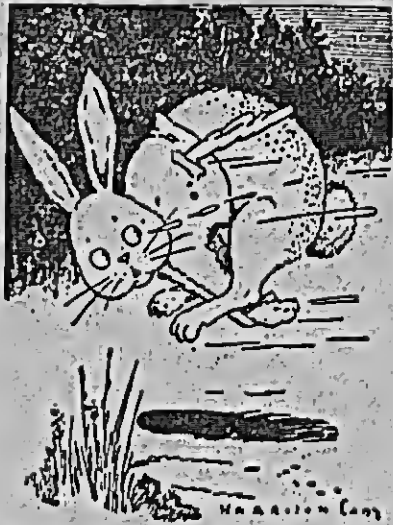

by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER RABBIT TELLS HIS STORY

WHEN Peter Rabbit could get his breath after his long, hard run from the Green Forest to the dear Old Briar Patch he had a wonderful story to tell. It was all about a stranger in the Green Forest, and to have heard Peter tell about it you would have thought, as Mrs. Peter did, that it was a very terrible stranger, for it had no legs and it had no head and it had no tail. At least, that is what Peter said.

"You see, it was this way," declared Peter. "I had stopped longer than I meant to in the Green Forest, for you know, my dear, I always try to be home by the time jolly, round, red Mr. Sun gets out of bed and Old Mother West Wind gets down on the Green Meadows."

Mrs. Peter nodded. "But somehow time slipped away faster than I thought, for, or else Mr. Sun got up earlier than usual," continued Peter.

Then he stopped. That last idea was a new one, and it struck Peter as a good one. "I do believe that that is just what happened—Mr. Sun must have made a mistake and crawled out of bed earlier than usual," he cried.

Mrs. Peter looked as if she very much doubted it, but she didn't say anything, and so Peter went on with his story.

"I had just realized how light it was and had started for home, hurrying with all my might, when I heard a little noise at the top of the hill where Prickly Pory the Porcupine lives. Of course, I thought it was Prickly himself starting out for his breakfast, and I looked up with my mouth open to say hello. But I didn't say hello. No, sir, I didn't say a word. I was too scared. There, just starting down the hill straight toward me, was the most dreadful creature that ever has been seen in the Green Forest! It didn't have any legs and it didn't have any head and it didn't have any tail, and it was coming straight after me so fast that I had all I could do to get out of the way!"

Peter's eyes grew very round and wide as he said this. "I took one good look and then I jumped. My gracious, how I did jump!" he continued. "Then I started for home just as fast as ever I could make my legs go, and here I am, mighty glad to be here!"

Mrs. Peter had listened with her mouth wide open. When Peter finished she closed it with a snap and hopped over and felt of his head.

"Are you sick, Peter?" she asked anxiously.

Peter stared at her. "Sick! Me sick! Not a bit of it!" he exclaimed. "Never felt better in my life save that I am a little tired from my long run. What a silly question. Do I look sick?"

"No-o," replied little Mrs. Peter slowly. "No-o, you don't look sick, but you talk as if there was something the matter with your head. I think you must be a little light-headed, Peter, or else you have taken a nap somewhere and had a bad dream. Did I understand you to say that this dreadful creature has no legs and yet that it chased you?"

"That's what I said!" snipped Peter, a wee bit crossly, for he saw that Mrs. Peter didn't believe a word of his story.

"Will you please tell me how any creature in the Green Forest, or out of it, for that matter, can possibly chase any one unless it has legs or wings, and you didn't say anything about its having wings?" demanded Mrs. Peter.

Peter scratched his head in great perplexity. Suddenly he had a happy thought. "Mr. Blacksnake runs fast enough, but he doesn't have legs, does he?" he asked in triumph.

Little Mrs. Peter looked a bit discomfited. "No-o," she admitted, slowly, "he doesn't have legs, but I never could understand how he runs without them."

"Well, then," snapped Peter, "if he can run without legs, why can't other creatures? Besides, this one didn't run exactly; it rolled. Now I've told you all I'm going to. I need a long nap after all I've been through, so don't let any one disturb me."

"I won't," replied little Mrs. Peter, meekly. "But, Peter, if I were you I wouldn't tell that story to any one else."

Remember back in the days when there were two schools of thought among kids: were lace or button shoes easier to get into faster when dressing for school? And when the richer kids wore knee-length leggings that buttoned all the way up?

Somebody must have gotten a little mixed-up. We heard Lincoln's Gettysburg speech being broadcast over the radio Thanksgiving (Nov. 23) evening. We had no idea things were quite that bad.

Comparatively few businesses stand the test of time, it is revealed in a nation-wide survey published recently. Heading the list of "old established" institutions in the "fifty year old" class are the banks. Out of a total of 15,553 banks, 2,550 have completed their fiftieth year. Only 1,317 business establishments other than banks, schools, lodges and other organizations have reached the fifty year mark. The Antioch News is one of the 1,317 establishments that has endured and served, through good years and lean years, for over half a century. During its half-century existence, the Antioch News has chronicled the birth, and also the demise, of many contemporary publications.

FARM TOPICS

FARMERS LOSE CASH GRAZING WOODLANDS

Forestry Specialist Points Out Common Fallacy.

By R. W. GRAEBER

Farmers who graze cattle in woodlands lose money both in milk or beef and in timber and erosion control.

Experiments have shown that managed woodlands yield an annual return of about $4 per acre, and that the best open pastures yield about the same amount. However, when grazing and forestry are combined on the same area, the yields are much less, the total annual return for typical woodland pasture being only $1 per acre.

Why do farmers run their cattle in the woods? There is only one logical reason: They think they can pick up an extra dollar or two by letting the cattle pick a few buds and twigs in early spring, along with the low-growing plants and a few sprigs of grass or briars which may grow where a few rays of sunlight reach the ground.

This is a fallacy. A farmer doesn't pick up an extra dollar or two; the cows do not produce as much milk or as much beef as when they graze in open pasture; the timber supply is reduced; grazing woodlands induces erosion and loss of leaf litter; the fencing bill is higher.

Salt May Poison Hogs; Veterinarians Reveal

After investigating several cases of salt poisoning, veterinarians have found that most farmers are unaware that salt is poisonous to hogs if given in too large quantities.

A good example of such a case was a farmer who had 222 head of pigs which had been vaccinated with both virus and serum; seven of the group had died seven days after the vaccination and four more were sick. The farmer blamed the treatment. The sick pigs wandered about the pen in a daze; gradually weakening until completely paralyzed. Death soon followed. The owner said the pigs seemed to crave something, so he set out several blocks of medicated salt. A number of the pigs ate considerable amounts from the block, he continued. The salt was removed from the pens and no further losses occurred.

After observing several cases of salt poisoning, Dr. Hefford says that inflammation of the kidneys and bladder, together with a hardening of the liver, are the most common effects of too much salt in the ration.

As a rule hogs require little salt in the ration and the practice of mixing salt with the feed or soaking mash feeds in salt water should be discouraged, as a brine is likely to form which may cause acute poisoning with death following quickly, leaving post-mortem findings somewhat indefinite.

Farm Co-ops

The gross business of farmer-owned purchasing organizations in the United States is estimated at $110,000,000 and the members of the 10,750 co-operative organizations market $2,300,000,000 worth of farm products in an average year.

Day was not such a happy time for the United States. The Civil War was threatening to break down the nation that had been founded with ideals of freedom, justice and equality. There were many homes over which tragedy hovered. It was a time of privation, suffering, doubt and uncertainty.

And it was at such a time that Abraham Lincoln endeavored, amid the many weighty burdens of the Civil War, to find a word of comfort for another person.

He wrote:

"Executive Mansion

"Washington, Nov. 21, 1864

"To Mrs. Bixby, Boston, Mass.

"Dear Madam:

"I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

"Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

A. LINCOLN."

This letter has taken its place among the letters that have peculiarly touched the hearts of humanity, and across the span of years it carries a message of kindness that might well serve as a guide to leaders in this likewise troubled and doubtful time. We understand that the Rev. A. G. Tozer, new minister of the First Presbyterian church in Waukegan, is a bit worried because he is afraid a robe supposed (for sentiment's sake) to be worn by him for his formal installation Thursday evening of this week may not really be that which belonged to the late Rev. Samuel W. Chidester, D. D. Of course, while it may be nice to be fooled, it is frequently nicer to know. But the real question, it seems to us, hasn't been touched on yet—does it fit?

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Battle to Raise National Debt Makes New Taxes Impossible; Touchy Topic in Election Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

EARLY
His boss hopes...

KING
"... great interest..."

WHITE HOUSE: Budget

Next spring the national debt will reach its $45,000,000,000 legal limit. To circumvent the issue or force an increase through a hostile congress during an election year will provide such a test of political etiquette that the New Deal will have little stomach for a tax-raising campaign. If anything, it will be smart politics to slash expenditures.

There were signs in late November that such attempts might be made. One by one, administration spokesmen purred for the press:

Said Mississippi's Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee: "Receipts are showing up fine. The way they are coming in gladdens our hearts. If... we can cut down expenses somewhat, we may get along without a tax bill."

Said Utah's Sen. William King, fresh from a White House conference: "The President evinced great interest in a policy that would prevent large deficits."

Next came White House Secretary Steve Early, who has been reborn lately as a "spokesman." While Budget Director Harold D. Smith nodded his assent, Steve Early pointed out that the President is considering sharp economies next year. Other leaders hoped to trim the deficit to between $2,000,000,000 and $2,500,000,000. (Last fiscal year's deficit: $3,500,000,000.)

Aside from all-important political considerations, prevailing whether the President sought a third term or tried to name his successor, there were some honestly promising factors in the picture. WPA rolls stood at 1,930,463 against 3,300,000 a year ago; business was better; tax income, if the present rate of increase is maintained, would be $1,000,000,000 higher next year.

But there was a less pleasant side to the picture. National defense, which last year cost $1,500,000,000, may easily reach $3,000,000,000 this year and would thus wipe out the boost in tax receipts. Relief costs are predicted at $1,000,000,000 against $1,400,000,000 this year, a comparatively small cut. Summed up, the budget will probably hit a rough $9,000,000,000, which still fails to reverse the spending trend.

EUROPE: Mad War

Spies, parachutes and trade conversations made bigger news than actual warfare as Europe ended the third month of its strange war. And if any deduction could be drawn from this mad sequence of illogical activity on a hundred fronts, it was that Europe is already pretty sick of war, more and more convinced that nobody wins.

The new "weapon" Adolf Hitler threatened during his speech at Donzig took form in a new sea mine parachuted from airplanes. Presumably scores of these were dropped in the English channel, the parachutes dissolving. In one week they took a toll of 25 allied and neutral vessels, Britain retaliating by strengthening its blockade against the Reich. This was not too smart, for London soon had the wrath of Netherlands, Belgium and Italy on her shoulders.

NAMES

... in the news

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia told reporters: "I know of no man better qualified for the presidency than John N. Garner or Harry Byrd (his colleague from Virginia)."

Wilhelm Hohenzollern, ex-Kaiser of Germany, narrowly missed injury when a sudden windstorm uprooted a tree one minute after he had passed the spot.

Tom Pendergast, ex-Kansas City boss now in Leavenworth for evading income taxes, was denied parole.

Mohandas Gandhi, Indian leader, demanded freedom for his followers before India will aid Britain in the war.

Louis Tager was re-elected master of the National Grange as its convention closed at Peoria. Chief resolution: To force suspension of the U. S. reciprocal trade program.

The allies were more successful in other branches of warfare. No one knew how many French-British planes had been lost, but 20 Nazi airships were allegedly shot down in two days' warfare over the Western front. At sea the French destroyer Siroco sank two German submarines within three days.

While Berlin was genuinely worried by disorders in the Czech province, where eight students had been purged, the Nazis were making the most of another disorder. Heinrich Himmler, chief of the feared Gestapo, announced simultaneously that a German named Georg Elser and two British intelligence officers, Mr. Best and Captain Stevens, had been arrested in connection with the Munich beer hall explosion which almost cost Hitler's life. Elser is charged with the crime, while the Britishers were said to have financed it. Direct leadership, say the Nazis, came from exiled Otto Strasser, pioneer Hitlerite who soon became his bitter foe. Britain kept its tongue in cheek throughout the affair, for Germany was obviously making the most of this detective thriller. Biggest mystery: Why should the British instigate a plot that would martyrize Hitler?

German activity also had repercussions in the Balkans. When Rumania's cabinet rejected Nazi demands for a virtual monopoly on Rumanian oil and raw materials, Premier Constantin Argetoianu resigned. His successor, whose appointment was hailed as an allied victory, is George Tatarescu, former premier and a strong Franco-ophile.

AGRICULTURE: Farm Vote

In at least one man's opinion, 1940's presidential campaign will be won or lost in the farm vote. Addressing the National Grange convention in Peoria, Oregon's Republican Sen. Charles L. McNary (himself a potential candidate) outlined a three-point program on which he said the G. O. P. could win:

(1) Equalize AAA benefit payments. One weakness in the present plan, he maintained, is its discrimination favoring a few commodities (wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, and rice). Four other products ranking ahead of these in production are dairy, live stock, poultry and eggs and hogs.

(2) Repeal the reciprocal trade pact, said Senator McNary: "While some industries may have profited by these agreements, it has been at the expense of products of the soil."

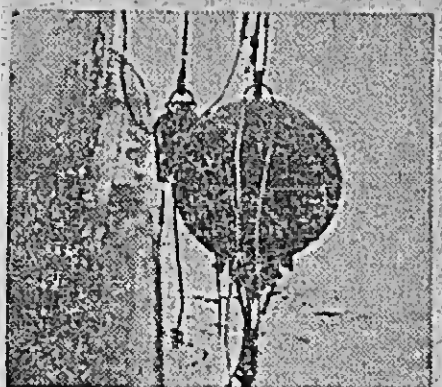

(3) Liberalize the public land policy to give the 14 land states a greater share of revenues from sale of forests and grazing on the public domain.

SENATOR McNARY
He had points.

NEWS QUIZ

Know your news? One hundred is perfect score; deduct 20 for each question you miss. Score of 60 or more is good.

1. The round object shown above has been the principal weapon in Europe's war. What is it?

2. Cholee: Toledo's school children made news because they: (a) refused to attend classes; (b) were dismissed from classes until January 1; (c) were deprived of books because the mayor charged their texts contained un-American propaganda.

3. Kermit Roosevelt is the son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt. Why has he renounced his American citizenship?

4. Sammy Boy, a 16-year-old California dog, is listed in a telephone directory and has been used for movies and advertising illustrations. How did he make news?

5. Owen D. Young and Gerald Swope, board chairman and president of General Electric company, made what important announcement?

ASIA:

Mr. Welles Complains

Biggest actual news of Japan's war in China came from a suddenly developed front in southern Kwangsi province (see map), where 40,000 Nipponese staged a blitzkrieg to sever China's rail connections with French Indo-China. Thus Tokyo hoped to starve the Chungking government into submission, expecting no protests either from Britain or France. Both these nations had their hands full at home. Nanning, where the supply route was to be cut, held out valiantly and hopelessly against the invader.

Meanwhile Japan gloated over reports that her puppet Chinese government, soon to be established under former Chinese Premier Wang Ching-wei, will be recognized by U.

SOUTHERN CAMPAIGN
The U. S. was harder to win.

ally and Germany. Even Britain, trying to make friends in the Far East, was rumored about to capitulate. But Jap Premier Nobuyuki Abe realized Chinese resistance was not easily broken. Threatened he: "Japan will keep troops there until China is entirely free from the Communist menace."

Another menace was the U. S. At Washington, Undersecretary of State told his press conference that Americans in China—especially at the Tientsin British concession—are being molested by the Japs. He also emphasized that the U. S. still insists its citizens have every right to pursue their commercial enterprises in China, regardless of Japan's highly touted "new order."

This looked bad for U. S.-Jap trade relations, which Tokyo hopes can be smoothed over before the present treaty is abrogated January 28. Although Premier Abe hoped these relations "could be adjusted" before the deadline, it hardly looked like Washington was in a mood to talk business.

MISCELLANY:

Eighth Wonder

At Gillespie, Ill., labor's rival C. I. O. and A. F. of L. staged an eighth wonder of the world by co-operating in a coal mine dispute. Said A. F. of L.'s David Reed, without precedent: "The time has ended when companies can play one labor organization against the other..."

Corn

Also at Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace announced corn loans at 57 cents a bushel (70 per cent of estimated 22-cent parity price). Forecast: That more than last year's 235,000,000 bushels will be placed under seal through the new program.

Cold Weather Breakfast Treats From Sunny Hawaiian Islands

Pineapple griddle cakes served piping hot with butter and pineapple sauce and ribbons of crisp bacon is an inspired breakfast suggestion from romantic Hawaii.

THE sweet aroma of baking pineapple griddle cakes and bubbling pineapple sauce will do more to rouse sleepy heads on cold winter mornings than the lusty peals of a jangling alarm clock. Serve both griddle cakes and sauce piping hot.

Pineapple Griddle Cakes

- 3 cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 1 cup canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat eggs slightly with the milk. Stir the liquid into the dry mixture, adding the pineapple juice last. Add the melted shortening and drop at once by spoonfuls on a hot griddle.

If a thinner cake is desired, add more pineapple juice.
Yield: Approximately 30 cakes.

Pineapple Sauce

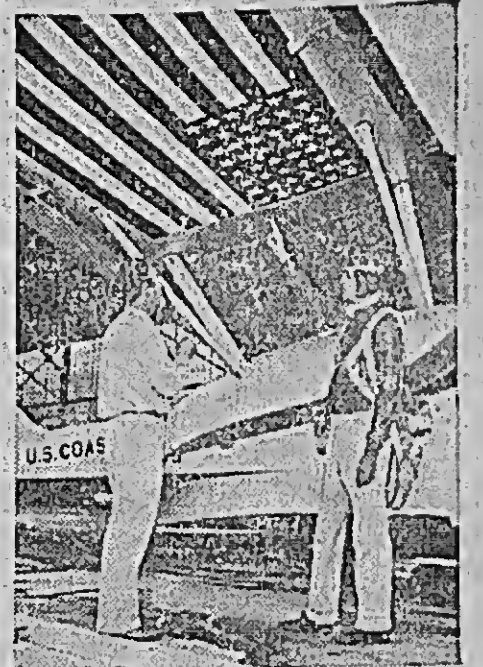

- 2 cups canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice
- Lemon rind
- 5 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon water

Boil the pineapple juice with a piece of lemon rind for the period of time it takes to melt the sugar in another pan to a golden brown color, then add the pineapple juice and boil for a few minutes.

Mix cornstarch with water and stir into sauce to thicken it. Boil for 5 minutes. Add lemon juice. Remove lemon rind. Serve hot.

This sauce may also be served over cottage pudding or spice cake. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

Just in Case—

The United States coast guard at Miami, Fla., takes no chances. When foreign submarines were reported to have been sighted in Florida waters, coast guard officials painted a large American flag on the underside of the wing for identification purposes.

Cannon Coiffure

At long last war has succeeded in getting into millady's hair. Here is a coiffure decorated with air craft and cannon decorations in silver. It was demonstrated at a New York haldressers' convention.

Horseshoe Is Blamed

For Big Grass Fire
SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—A horseshoe was blamed for a 100-acre grass fire, near Stockton, Calif., recently. Threatening a 2,000-acre ranch, the fire was fought by 50 men. The shoe of a horse striking flinty rock and causing sparks was the cause of the conflagration, fire officials believed.

Bishop Makes His Rounds in Arctic

Latest Feat Is 1,700-Mile Trip Through Wastes.

CHURCHILL, MAN.—Life behind cloistered walls is not for the Rt. Rev. J. Clabaut, bishop of the Catholic Church mission diocese of Hudson bay. Worthy of an Arctic explorer's efforts is the trip through the icy barrens of Baffin Land in the Arctic circle that the bishop has just completed.

Arriving in Churchill, the missionary concluded a 1,700-mile trek by dog-team and canoe, during which all the rigors of the north were encountered. Near starvation in storm-bound Eskimo igloos proved merely an accepted part of the bishop's church duties while on the trip.

During his tour he was accompanied by Father D. Dionne, a missionary from the Eskimo Point post, and by an Eskimo guide.

Leaving Baffin bay February 7, the missionary mushed over hard-packed snow barrens to Arctic bay, and then moved down to Igloolik, Repulse bay, Wagner Inlet, Chesterfield, Baker lake and Tavana. He visited the various mission and trading posts along the route.

Largely dependent upon hunting for food, the party suffered hardship many times when storms prevented the shooting of game. During one storm which raged for four days the entire party was without food except for one small duck shot by the bishop.

They took to canoes at Eskimo Point, far to the north of Churchill, abandoned their dog teams. By canoe they skirted along the edge of a huge ice field, being forced to lay to on ice floes on several occasions. Many bands of Eskimos were encountered, some of whom were suffering from famine owing to the unsuitable hunting conditions, caused by storms.

The missionary left Churchill for Montreal early in July. Last year he made the northern trip in August, on board the S. S. Nascope during its annual cruise.

School of Sharks PerilsThree Men in Small Boat

LONDON.—Three men had narrow escapes when a school of 50 basking sharks surrounded their boat and one of them hurled it out of the water, off Peninver, six miles from Campeltown, Argyllshire, Scotland.

Blinded by water, Hugh Cameron, the owner, hung on the wheel and brought the boat back to an even keel. Struggling to beat the sharks, the three men managed to reach land.

"We had not got far out when the Maggie (their motor-fishing boat) was surrounded by sharks—40 or 50 of them," Cameron said.

"Suddenly a fin appeared right in front of us and I saw a shark rising to the surface underneath the boat."

"I could have touched it with my hand. I swung the Maggie around, but the propeller was struck by the shark and we were flung out of the water."

Town Frightened by Boy;Carries Poisonous Snake

VRYHEID, NATAL.—There was a minor panic among pedestrians in Commissioner street, Vryheid, when they sighted a small native boy approaching with a 30-inch poisonous snake, twisting in angry fashion, in his hand.

The boy walked unconcernedly along until a cautious passerby, at a safe distance, asked him where he was going with the snake (a ring-balls).

"I'm going to send it off from the post office," explained the boy, and said he had heard someone in Durban was buying snakes.

Reluctantly he allowed himself to be persuaded that the post office would not accept the snake, and killed it on the pavement.

Sparrow Wages TerrificBattle With Auto Bumper

KLAMATH FALLS, ORE.—Main point of interest in Klamath Falls for several days was an angry sparrow who had singled out a particular car to vent its spite.

For days the sparrow battled its own image in the polished surface of the bumper guard of an automobile parked in front of a newspaper office.

The bird ignored other bumper guards and bright spots that offered a reflection equally clear. When the car was driven away the bird would patiently wait for its return and resume its futile battle. The bird was saved further useless struggle when the owner of the car decided to park it in another place down the street.

Milkmaid Takes Place of Cowboy In Old Wyoming

Dairy Cattle Becoming More Numerous as Price Of Beef Drops.

AFTON, WYO.—The milkmaid is replacing the cowboy on the broad plains of Wyoming.

The great herds of beef cattle still are there—behind fences now—but dairy cattle are growing in number and Wyoming now ranks fifth in the nation in the production of Swiss cheese, with an annual output of 1,250,000 pounds.

The hard-bitten cattle barons of 50 years ago frowned on milk cattle and raised few other than for their own supplies of products. With the present decline in beef markets and the increased trend in the state toward agriculture, dairy cattle become more numerous each year.

Products Rate High.
Cheese experts say that the Wyoming product compares favorably with that of foreign manufacturers.

The Star Valley, in west-central Wyoming, is the heart of the dairy-producing industry. In 1927 a co-operative firm was formed, with 27 members to build a cheese factory for production of milk products. Experts tried to discourage the idea, but it proved a success from the beginning.

Today the valley supports five co-operative production centers and six factories with its annual output of 800,000,000 pounds of milk. Ideal grass and climatic conditions in this picturesque region have aided in earning for more than half of the dairies contributing to the co-operative concerns grade-A ratings.

Eight thousand cows are represented in the products of the co-operatives and factories, according to an estimate by George Knutson of the Wyoming live stock and crop reporting service.

Fremont County Is Lead.

Fremont county, in central Wyoming, has shown the most rapid increases in dairy product output during the last few years. A co-operative factory was constructed last year at Hudson. Equipped with the most modern machinery, the factory has earned an enviable reputation for its products, experts say.

Knutson said that the 1938 figure of 64,000 has increased from 3,980 pounds to 4,230 pounds. He estimated that creameries throughout Wyoming annually produce 2,794,273 pounds of butter, 321,181 gallons of ice cream, 12,788 gallons of sherbet, 403,232 pounds of American cheese, 72,825 pounds of cottage cheese, 407,094 pounds of dried milk, 82,701 pounds of dried casein and 7,000 pounds of Munster cheese.

Driver Uses 'Press' TagWhy? Father Is a Tailor

ST. PAUL, MINN.—Passersby thought they were host to a foreign correspondent when they saw Stanley Greenspun's car parked in the loop. The car, a large sedan, carried a Florida license plate No. 00-000, plus a Shanghai plate with lettering in Chinese and a metal plate stamped with the word "Press."

Reporters traced the car to Greenspun, a candy salesman from Philadelphia. "What about the Florida license plate?" they asked.

"I'm a part-time Florida resident," Greenspun asserted. "Florida requires only one plate. The one on the front is a phoney just made up as a sample."

"Well, how about the Shanghai license?"

"Oh, there's a store down in Iowa that sells them from all over the world."

"Well, then, how do you explain the PRESS emblem?" the reporters persisted.

"My father's a tailor," snapped Greenspun.

Wounding of Deer Leads To Success in Business

CLEVELAND.—Andy Christie is in a $400,000 business because he wounded a deer 16 years ago.

Christie, 50, of Kingston, N. H., was a successful shoe and clothing salesman in 1923 when he shot a deer and spent several hours trying to find it.

While searching he met Fred Nichols, a poultry raiser, who helped him find the wounded animal the next day. They became close friends.

Christie finally yielded to Nichols' pleas and they started raising chickens together—until now they have a $400,000-a-year business.

Brother and Sister MeetAfter 47-Year Separation

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Separated in Ireland nearly a half century ago, Mrs. John L. Marmion, of Buffalo, and her brother, John Mallon, of Cambridge, Mass., have been reunited.

Mallon came to the United States 47 years ago, but throughout the years neglected to write home. His sister came here 12 years ago, and thought Mallon dead when efforts to find him proved futile.

Recently, Mallon wrote a parish priest in Ireland, asking his sister's address. He received the information, resulting in the reunion here.

Japanese Synthetic Gas

Synthetic gasoline in Japan costs three times the market price of imported gasoline, says Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The Japanese government subsidizes the synthetic product, the supply of which thus far does not exceed 10,000 gallons a month. Production is slated to be increased by 2,900 per cent within the next three years.

Divorce in Canada
The steady increase of divorce in Canada is attracting the attention of sociologists and statisticians of the Dominion. The figures steadily mount. In 1918, there were only 114 divorces in all the country. In 1928, the figure had risen to 783 and in 1938, to 1,883.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS

Nov. 21—A bill for $30,944.50 for high school tuition for Zion students as far back as 1937 will be the basis for court action against the Zion-Benton Township high school district, it was decided upon last night at a meeting of the Waukegan high school board.

Nov. 21—North Chicago is willing to assume its share of the expenses of widening Tenth street, which is the dividing line between the two municipalities, and the question now is—What will Waukegan do in the matter?—according to a discussion brought up in the city council meeting last night.

Nov. 22—Sheriff and Mrs. Thomas E. Kennedy prepared three turkeys, with dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, pumpkin pie and milk for the county jail inmates' Thanksgiving noon dinner.

Nov. 22—Wearying of a diet of bread and bologna served twice daily, Stuart Drennan, 24 years old, began the third day of his self-imposed hunger strike today in the city jail. He is allowed no visitors. Police have refused to divulge the reason for his arrest until the case is completed.

Nov. 22—A ten-ton stack of hay valued at $160 burned to the ground last night on property owned by Frank Posen of Wadsworth in the 2,000 block of Pearsall street.

Nov. 22—The original pulpit of the First Congregational church, which was saved from the fire, will be used for services to be conducted in the city council chambers of the city hall. The use of the chambers has been granted to the parish by Mayor Mancel Talcott and the city council.

Nov. 27—Elding police, Waukegan's pyromaniac set fires at the Trinity Lutheran church, a bicycle shop at 904 South Genesee street, the Lake County Manufacturing and Jobbing company and the National Envelope company Saturday night and Sunday morning. The greatest loss was at the jobbing company, $260. Lake County Sheriff Thomas Kennedy has offered his assistance and the services of his men and equipment to Chief of Police William Blaylock in the present crisis.

Nov. 27—The planting of 5,000 tulip bulbs and 1,000 hyacinth bulbs from the Holland Bulb industry in Waukegan hospital and library lawns has been completed. Waukegan is now looking forward to a tulip festival in the spring.

Nov. 27—Joseph E. Gentile, 48, former Waukegan grocer and organizer and first president of Waukegan's Italian-American social club, died in the Kenosha hospital at Kenosha, Wis., last night as the result of a skull fracture suffered on Route 41 west of Waukegan three weeks ago.

Nov. 25—The Moraine hotel in Highland Park, one of the show places in Lake county, was sold to a Chicagoan yesterday for $154,138 delinquent taxes at the close of the annual tax sale conducted by County Treasurer Garfield R. Leal.

Nov. 25—A medal was to be presented to William White, night foreman at the American Steel and Wire mill, in recognition of his 50 years' service in the employ of the company.

Nov. 24—Christmas lights were put up in the downtown section today.

Nov. 24—Stuart Drennan, 24, who had been held incommunicado in the city jail since he was arrested for investigation Nov. 19, was released yesterday morning in time for a turkey dinner at his home. Drennan had refused to eat the regular jail fare of bread and bologna during the five days he was detained.

Nov. 24—Harry Anderson, Chicago, engineer of the crack "Winnebago" train of the North Western railroad that was derailed near North Chicago, saved the lives of her 157 passengers at the cost of his own, an investigation by railroad officials revealed today. Anderson could have escaped had he set the brakes and leaped immediately after the train struck a handcar at the Downey crossing, but the coaches would have toppled down the 25-foot viaduct. Instead, he waited until the last coach had cleared the viaduct before setting the brakes. Anderson was killed by escaping steam, and Stanley Mack, fireman, is in a serious condition at Victory Memorial hospital with burns.

Nov. 24—Unless the rabies epidemic abates before next Thursday, Mayor Mancel Talcott may be obliged to order the inoculation of dogs in Waukegan.

Interesting Programs Announced by Exton for Roosevelt Theater

Residents of Antioch and surrounding territory who journey to Kenosha occasionally for their movie entertainment may find it to their advantage to drop in at the Roosevelt Theatre on Roosevelt road (Route 50) in Kenosha where William Exton, formerly manager of the downtown theaters in Kenosha, now operates this neighborhood family theater as his own. For this particular week-end, Mr. Exton is presenting a five-act vaudeville show on Saturday night only, together with two excellent screen features. Doors open every Saturday at 5:45 o'clock and the show starts at 6:15, with a thrifty admission price of only 15 cents until six o'clock, after which the prices advance to twenty-five cents.

One of the outstanding features that await Roosevelt theater patrons is the large free accommodation for auto parking which is rendered exclusively to patrons of this theater. The parking grounds are located directly across from the theater and an attendant is in charge to assist in parking cars.

An announcement ad of the screen and stage program appears elsewhere in this edition of the Antioch News and due to the many requests of movie patrons in this section of Illinois Mr. Exton will carry his weekly program in each edition of this paper for future reference.

"J. B.'s" Players to Give "The Slow Poke" Dec. 7

A packed house greeted J. B. Rot-nour's company at the Crystal theater last Thursday evening when "Bound for Hollywood" was presented.

This Thursday evening "The Thundering Herd," a western play that is "new" and "different," will be enacted on the stage.

"The Slow Poke," characterized by "J. B." as a comedy with a pleasing touch of drama, will be given next Thursday evening, Dec. 7. Mr. Le-roy will return to the cast, which assures several numbers by the quartet, together with specialties by Jimmy Parsons and his saxophone and the Vernums.

The company will continue in cooperation with the local firms which are listed in this issue, every Thursday evening at the Crystal. Free merchant tickets may be obtained from any firm listed.

Nov. 25, 1909

Sometime between the hours of 10:30 Monday night and 5:00 Tuesday morning robbers forced an entrance through the front door into the Antioch postoffice, which is a small room partitioned off in Williams Bros. department store, and appropriated for their own use small change to the amount of seven or eight dollars.

From the post office they walked through into the store and cracked the safe, blowing it literally in pieces with nitroglycerine. Here they got only about 15 or 20 dollars. Nothing else in the store was disturbed. In the absence of D. A. Williams, who was in Dexter, Kans., and E. R. Williams, who was not at the store Monday night, Oliver Cubbon had taken the greater part of the cash with him when he left the store.

Paul Stricker, the West Washington street butcher, had a narrow escape from suffocation when the door of his smoke house blew shut behind him and the latch dropped. A butcher in the shop heard his cries and released him.

The former "Dick and Dell" resort for some time known as the State Line Inn, was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning.

Two skeletons believed to be those of Indians have been unearthed in a gravel pit on the Hasselman farm just south of Wilmet. One had an arrow imbedded in the first lumbar vertebrae. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Emmons celebrated their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday.

Clara Bow stars in "Poisoned Paradise" at a local theater.
